The place where we feel safest - at home - is where most smoking-materials, structure fires, deaths, and injuries occur. Smoking materials are the leading cause of fire deaths. Smoking Material fires are preventable.

Smoking Safety

- If you smoke, use only fire-safe cigarettes.
- If you smoke, smoke outside. Most deaths result from fires that started in living rooms, family rooms and dens or in bedrooms.
- Keep cigarettes, lighters, matches, and other smoking materials up high out of the reach of children, in a locked cabinet.

Put It Out

- Use a deep, sturdy ashtray. Place it away from anything that can burn.
- Do not discard cigarettes in vegetation such as mulch, potted plants or landscaping, peat moss, dried grasses, leaves or other things that could ignite easily.
- Before you throw away butts and ashes, make sure they are out, and dousing in water or sand is the best way to do that.

Smoking and Medical Oxygen

Never smoke and never allow anyone to smoke where medical oxygen is used. Medical oxygen can cause materials to ignite more easily and make fires burn at a faster rate than normal. It can make an existing fire burn faster and hotter.

Electronic Cigarettes

Fires have occurred while e-cigarettes were being used, the battery was being charged, or the device was being transported. Battery failures have led to small explosions. Never leave charging e-cigarettes unattended. E-cigarettes should be used with caution.

FACTS

- The risk of dying in a home structure fire caused by smoking materials rises with age.
- One out of Four fatal victims of smoking-materials fires is not he smoker whose cigarette started the fire.

Fishing Magician

Dave Ingalsbee

Reach Dave @ www.FishingMagician.com or FishBoy@nwi.net "The Outdoor Insider"

The big news for this week is the opening of several lakes in the region to trout fishing. Every year anglers celebrate trout fishing by making their first trips of the year. It's a good idea to check through the Washington Sportfishing pamphlet to see if any of the lakes near you will be opening on March 1st.

The opening of several lakes in Grant County on March first every year creates a good deal of excitement. This is the unofficial starting gun for trout fishing in Eastern Washington, and I expect to see a good crowd of anglers in the Quincy Wildlife Area, where there are some excellent prospects for fishing in the early season. Burke and Quincy lakes are high on the list of places anglers will plan to make their first casts of the year. Both of these lakes are getting special plants of rainbow prior to March 1st to assure that anglers have good success on the opener. Each lake will receive 1,500 rainbow that average a pound. Martha Lake, which is east of the town of George, will also get a plant of rainbow prior to the opening day. It got 750 catchables in October and will get another 500 catchables in March. Another lake that is popular with March anglers is Upper Caliche Lake, which is west of the town of George, and it got 500 catchables in the fall of last year and will get another 325 catchables in March. Two lakes that are very popular with fly fishers also got special plants. Both Lenice and Nunnally lakes were planted with 3,000 catchables last fall and another 2,250 this spring. This week's photo was taken at Burke Lake on last year's opening day.

There are several "quality" lakes in Okanogan County that are open year-round and offer particularly good fishing for trout that are larger than most in the other lakes in the region. By "quality", I mean that these lakes have selective gear rules, which means no bait allowed, and barbless hooks. They also have a two fish limit per day with a minimum size of 14 inches. Many of them also don't allow the use of internal combustion engines. Given the special rules and restrictions, these are very popular with fly fishers, but the use of traditional gear, like spoons and spinners with barbless hooks is allowed. Rat Lake is one of these lakes and is located just outside of the town of Brewster. It's a short drive up the hill through the angus cattle feed lots to the parking area and boat launch. This launch is large enough to accommodate small boats. The early spring is a probably the best time of year to fish Rat Lake I was hoping to find the ice that had formed on the lake to be gone when I checked on it last Saturday, but it's going to be a while before it goes away.

When I was checking on the ice conditions on several lakes in Okanogan County, one that was on my list to visit was Davis Lake. This is another one of the quality lakes in the area and is between Twisp and Winthrop. The reason I wanted to stop here was that I found it busy with fly fishers last fall. Blue Lake in the Sinlahekin Valley and Davis had more activity than any of the other lakes I stopped at while shooting video for Okanogan County Tourism. I found Davis solidly frozen and although the ice is questionable now, I could see where people had been drilling holes in the ice earlier this winter. Once again, anglers will have to wait to fish this popular quality lake. Another popular lake in northern Okanogan County is Palmer Lake, and when it has good ice many people fish it for perch, rainbow, kokanee and particularly burbot. The state record for burbot was held for a long time with a fish from Palmer. I checked with some folks in Loomis and found out that not enough ice formed this winter to fish Palmer. I did get a call back from Bonaparte Lake Resort, and they still have 15 inches of ice on the lake and good catches of tiger trout are being made.

I wasn't having much luck finding lakes in Okanogan County that were free of ice. My idea was that with the mild winter weather we've had anglers could be fishing some of the quality lakes in this area. Well, not only were the quality lakes frozen over, but every lake I visited had ice on it, and enough ice that it will be a while before they will be fishable. So, I decided to check on one of the most popular ice fishing lakes in the Methow Valley. That is Patterson Lake, not far outside of the town of Winthrop. Here I found anglers enjoying the day ice fishing. They were scattered from one end of the lake to the other. One angler told me that the ice was nine and a half inches thick, and I saw people taking a snowmobile out on the ice and down to a shack at the far end. I have fished Patterson for many years, and although perch used to be my target species years ago, more people are now focusing on the trout and kokanee. Perch are still plentiful but running smaller than when I was fishing it.

I mentioned in an earlier report that Rat Lake near Brewster was still iced over. The ice isn't thick enough to support ice fishermen, so it will probably be sometime in March before anglers can get at the trout in this quality lake. I thought of another lake that is popular in the spring that may have shed its layer of ice, so I got back on Highway 97 and drove up to Okanogan. Here I took Highway 20 to reach Leader Lake. Leader was changed to a year-round lake several years ago and increased in popularity. It is inhabited with a wide variety of species. There is a boat launch here and very good shore access. I found this lake also covered with ice, and no sign of people drilling holes through it.

I will be checking on some of the lakes that open on March 1st, and I look forward to visiting with a bunch of anglers on this early season trout fishing opening day.

HISTORIC PHOTOS of IDAHO PANHANDLE

Iceplane Adventure

Harry Wilson, Mickey Jessick and Don McDonald, builders of this novel iceplane, claimed it could go sixty miles an hour on the straight away and dared people to come up and try it sometime. The fuselage was made according to regulation airplane plans and the craft was put together in the Central Motors garage at 212 Sherman Ave. in Coeur d'Alene. The men made several trips as far as McDonald Point. The iceplane could be put on skiis and travel as well in the snow as on the ice. A Spokane Chronicle newspaper article said they planned to construct several more and afford passenger service to all points on the Lake. There is no evidence that is occurred. February 25, 1936, left: Mickey Jessick and Harry Wilson right. Tubs Hill in the background.

Real Estate Trends & Advice

RESIDENTIAL REAL ESTATE REPORTING - FinCEN

Starting on March 1, 2026, real estate closing companies will be required to report certain real estate transfers to the United States Treasury Department's Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN).

"The Department of the Treasury has long recognized that the illicit use of residential real estate threatens U.S. economic and national security and can disadvantage those that seek to compete fairly in the U.S. real estate market. This reporting requirement is designed to increase transparency in the U.S. residential real estate sector and to combat and deter money laundering." (www.fincen.gov/rre)

This new reporting requires that certain residential real estate transactions purchased with all cash or without institutional lender financing where at least one buyer is a legal entity, limited liability company, corporation, partnership, trust, trustee, or other non-natural person, must be reported.

So this will affect your real estate transaction if the buyer is an entity, and purchasing with cash, owner financing/private financing. This does not apply if the buyer is a "natural person" and or is getting financing from an institutional lender. Institutional lenders are already subject to anti-money laundering and suspicious activity reporting obligations.

What if your residential real estate transaction fits this new reporting criteria? The closing company that is handling the closing will be responsible for providing this report to the Department of the Treasury. Both buyer and seller will need to provide to the closing company the information and documentation necessary for the closing agent to complete the FinCEN Report. This includes full legal names, date of birth, address and IRS taxpayer identification number of the beneficial owners of the buyer's entity. The buyer will also pay the cost to prepare and file the report. It is expected to be around $300-$400.

If the buyer in your transaction is a natural person, this reporting will not need to be done.

In summary, the purpose of this reporting is to deter and combat the use of real estate in money laundering. If you are buying or selling after March 1, 2026, be aware that if the buyer is an "entity" there will be some additional steps that will need to be taken at closing for this reporting and may add some additional time and cost to closing. If you would like to find out more information about this reporting, reach out to your real estate agent or visit www.fincen.gov/rre.

JIM SEIVERS CAPTURES PRO NOSTALGIA TITLE

Jim Seivers has now won the Pro Nostalgia A field points championship for the second time in three years. Jim Seivers photo

SPOKANE — Longtime Spokane drag racer Jim Seivers won the Pro Nostalgia A field points championship for the second time in three years.

"This is a series based at the legendary Woodburn Dragstrip close to Portland and has cars coming from as far away as Arizona and California. It features front engine dragsters, altereds and nostalgia funny cars," Seivers wrote in a text message.

Most of the cars are new purpose-built cars, but there are a few old cars from the sixties, Seivers explained.

"One is Mike Floyd's junior fuel car," Seivers said. "His dad, Earl, raced way back when. It runs a Desoto Hemi on 98% nitro and will make you cry from the smell. Floyd's car can still go 190 mph, but the et is in the high 7s which isn't fast enough for the A field.

"We went into the last race of the series with a good lead being the only car with more than one win," Seivers said.

I told my crew all we had to do was qualify in the A field which is not that easy considering it took a 6 second pass to make it at the last event, and due to rain we only got one shot at it. Seivers laid down a 6.83 which ended up number one qualifier because nobody wanted to chance tire shake by leaning on it.

"My crew, Chris Madison, and Jaci Paslay went nuts on the starting line celebrating, or so I was told. I wasn't a hundred percent sure about the points and broke in the first round against the third-place car of Jay Kinney.

Then watched Jay and the 2nd place car go to the final with Steve Henry getting the win. I knew it was close and here are the results.

Seivers thanks Chris and Jaci for their efforts, and also gave kudos to the rest of the racers in the class.

"This is a very competitive series, some really good cars and drivers in this," Seivers said. "They are all great people, knowledgeable, and we are proud to call them friends."

Pro Nostalgia A 2025 Point Leaders

Position; Driver; Points
1. Jim Seivers; 391
2. Steve Henry; 376
3. Jay Kinney; 347
4. Nick Pruett; 301
5. Dave Reed; 300

TYLER REDDICK CLAIMS BACK-TO-BACK VICTORY AT ATLANTA

By Holly Cain; NASCAR Wire Service

HAMPTON, Ga. (February 22, 2025) – Tyler Reddick answered his DAYTONA 500 victory a week ago with a dramatic double overtime comeback win Sunday evening in the AutoTrader 400 at EchoPark Speedway, marking the first time in nearly two decades a driver has won the first two races of the NASCAR Cup Series season.

Even though Reddick's No. 45 23XI Racing Toyota's right front fender was damaged in an earlier incident, he was able to persevere, zigging-and-zagging and making a strong move to the front on the very last lap. He finished a mere .164-second ahead of fellow Toyota driver, Joe Gibbs Racing's Chase Briscoe who gave Reddick the crucial winning push to get ahead of his 23XI teammate Bubba Wallace and the Chevrolets of Carson Hocevar and Ross Chastain.

Reddick's work makes him only the sixth driver in NASCAR history to win the opening two races of the year. NASCAR Hall of Famer Matt Kenseth was the last to do so in 2009.

Reddick, who actually led a race best 53 of the 271 laps, jumped out of his damaged Toyota Camry to retrieve the checkered flag, pausing to take a long look at the right front damage – and missing fender - then smiling and wondering aloud how he pulled that victory off as well after being collected in a nine-car accident only 40 laps from the end of the scheduled distance.

"That's crazy, how about that EchoPark Speedway?" the 30-year old Californian yelled to the packed grandstands. "This place over the years it just puts on some amazing racing. Handling matters here, but I don't know, I guess determination outweighs handling."

His team co-owner, NBA legend Michael Jordan was equally as jubilant with Reddick's rebound.

"Tyler did an unbelievable job, both teams did an unbelievable job" Jordan said, also referring to Wallace, who led 46 laps but finished eighth in the final all-out push to the checkers.

The Chevrolets of Trackhouse Racing Ross Chastain and Spire Motorsports teammates Hocevar and Daniel Suarez rounded out the top-five behind Reddick and Briscoe.

In another phenomenal comeback story, Chastain's Trackhouse Racing teammate Shane Van Gisbergen finished sixth his best oval finish in his two years in the series – even after the former Australian Supercars Series champion was caught up in three of the yellow flag incidents on the day.

The NASCAR Cup Series moves to its first road course of the season March 1 for the DuraMax Grand Prix Powered by RelaDyne at Austin's famed Circuit of the Americas.
